Miracles Do Happen!

There were 4 new names added to the 180 list this week. Not bad at all. One of those 4 names happens to be my own! I don't know about the others, but that is the first 180 I've ever hit. Period. I have a couple of 171s, but that would be my first 180. Quite happy 'bout that. Only thing that could have been better would have been to win the game, but you can't have everything. I'm wondering if the 180 is an early Christmas gift...

Holiday Break

I mentioned last week that I would have another piece of Holiday news. We all know the break is coming. This little tid-bit is for after the break. If you are the home team on January 9th, please contact your venue prior to the 9th to make sure they are open for business. It happens often enough that venues get shut down for alcohol violations. Hopefully it's not a problem this years, especially as we don't play until the 9th...

Member Registration

Just a heads up that you have until next Monday, December 5th, to register any new players. After that, you'll have to plead your case with the Executive.

Statistician / Web master position

A reminder that we are still looking for someone to take over as Webmaster/Statistician. My Life Manager has asked that I free up my evenings... Doesn't take much, maybe an hour or so a week of your time. If you think you may be interested, contact us (well, me really) and we can discuss. Contact info can be found on the web site.
